

SPEAKING WITH GOD?

he has a charm
an almost unemotional outlook on nature he puts his hands together and pulls them apart
and there falls an apple

making a cat
making a bird
making a worm
he does these things to please and amaze me

though i'm amazed
i look at his face
when the bird eats the worm and the cat eats the bird he's laughing

his hair never falls out of place he makes all the women fall to his grace they all want to marry him even i would marry him

he takes me through times beyond me
he shows me the wars
and atrocities

he explains to me
that my kind only know how to take
he senses my offense
and explains to me

much like the underground man he isn't much of a man
he opens a door
that is not there
he clicks his fingers
and i'm not here

though he's my friend
he laughs in my face
and tells me
creating me was a mistake
